Indianapolis Neurosurgical Group surgeons teach colleagues around U.S.

(Indianapolis: May 1, 2009) Jean-Pierre Mobasser, MD, spine surgeon with Indianapolis Neurosurgical Group (ING), has been invited by the Congress of Neurological Surgeons to serve as Practical Course faculty at its 2009 annual meeting in New Orleans in October. Dr. Mobasser will be teaching at the course, “Nuances of Minimally Invasive Spinal Surgery.”

Last month, Michael Turner, MD, a pediatric neurosurgeon with ING, presented grand rounds in Neurosurgery at Louisiana State University Medical Center in New Orleans, on Intrathecal Pump Implantation. Dr. Turner also gave a guest lecture on spasticity management in New Orleans.
